What can I expect during a TeleClass?

TeleClasses are a compulsory and essential component of the learning process and aid the important transition from theory to application. During a TeleClass, you will participate in an interactive group coaching and teaching environment. TeleClasses are scheduled weekly and include discussion of concepts and their application in a coaching environment, demonstration of skills, and practice of skill application. All TeleClasses are facilitated by an Institute Master Coach.

These compulsory teleclasses for the Diploma course will contain a number of sections. One section will enable you to comment on the Workbook that you have gained competency in while another section will provide you with an opportunity to practice skills and the theory from this Workbook through being part of case studies or other similar activities.

The resources (you access via the link), contains information about these case studies/activities prior to the TeleClass. These case studies will include role plays, demonstrations and then constructive feedback from both the facilitator and participants. This will enable you to be more aware of how you can utilise these skills more appropriately in your own coaching practice.

How do I prepare for a TeleClass?

Prior to a class you will need to be competent in the pre-requisite units. Note any questions you'd like to ask about the material in the units to gain clarification or further insights. If possible email them in to tutor@estrada.edu.au / tutor@lci.com.au prior to the class. You will also need to familiarise yourself with the material sent to you that will be used in that teleclass and also ensure that you have your completed unit(s) and Book of Readings available for reference if needed during the teleclass.

TeleClass Prerequisites

Before you can enrol in any TeleClass, you need to be competent in the unit(s) for that particular TeleClass as each TeleClass builds on the material presented in each of the units.
